

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

March 18, 1972

Dear Bill:

I was pleased to receive the advance copy of your report, United States Foreign Policy -- 1971. It is an excellent document which will be most useful to everyone interested in our foreign policy.

Your report is a valuable supplement to my own statement--in its greater detail and more exhaustive treatment of other countries and individual issues, in the documentary annex, and in your treatment of the United Nations' action in seating the PRC and negotiations leading to the Berlin agreement. Obviously it entailed a great deal of thought, dedication, and hard work by you and your staff. However, the product warrants the effort. Please extend my appreciation to all those involved.

With warmest personal regards,

Sincerely,

The Honorable
William P. Rogers
The Secretary of State
